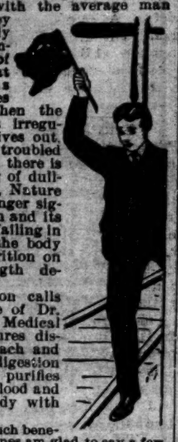
DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.



Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"I have had so much benefit from your medicines am glad to say a few words that you may use for publication," writes Mrs. J. R. Downes, Crystal Lake, Conn. "Had been troubled with a complication of diseases for over two years, but kidneys and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst ailments were headache, frequent pains around heart and under right shoulder-blade. My hands and feet were cold nearly all the time, and I had such chilliness between shoulders. Some days cared but little for food; I lost flesh; felt so tired and miserable it seemed I couldn't do any housework. Took medicine from my physician, but received no benefit. Bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after taking it I felt so much better we determined to give it a fair trial. Appetite soon improved and gradually the disorders disappeared until now I am well."

FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WEAK HEART S

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

STORY OF THE BATTLE.

Dispatches from Tokio giving descriptions of the greatest sea fight the world has known state that it is not at an end. Togo's fleet of ships are still on the sea pursuing the vessels of the Baltic squadron which escaped the fire of his battleships and cruisers and the attacks of his torpedo flotilla on Saturday night southeast of the Tsu straits. What the Japanese navy is doing in its pursuit of the Russians will remain unknown until the Tokio government chooses to tell. The results so far made public, however, by the Imperial Naval Board, show that the Russian fleet has been destroyed for all practical purposes of war, that the Japanese navy won a stupendous victory in a battle that raged for two days and one night, and that nothing in the history of naval warfare can compare with what was achieved by Togo and his men. Twenty-two warships were either sunk or captured in the historic engagement which began at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning, when a 12-inch gun of the battleship Mikasa sent one of its giant shells against the coast-defense ship Admiral Oushako. The last returns last night have caused the naval officials to say that in addition to the 19 vessels accounted for, including special service ships, semi-official reports from the squadron lead to the belief that the battleship Sissoi Veliky, the protected cruiser Izumrud and an auxiliary warvessel were sunk on Sunday night about 18 miles northeast of Nagasaki.

More than 2,000 men of all grades in the naval service of Russia were either killed or drowned in the main engagement, which lasted 36 hours. The prisoners number in excess of 2,800, including two admirals, nine fleet captains and more than 40 officers of the general naval staff. The battleships Orel and Nicholas I were forced toward the rocks 39 miles north of Nagasaki, and, with the coast-defense vessels Admiral Senlavan and Admiral Aprexine, were forced to strike their colors. From these ironclads 1,100 prisoners have been taken, including Rear-Admiral Nebogatoff, and probably Rear Admiral Enquist. The dead on these four fighting machines are telegraphed to exceed 700 and the wounded 400, which plainly illustrates the severity of the battle.

But these captures, great as they are in the figures of the naval battle, are overshadowed by the destruction of two battle-ships, all the armored cruisers, one protected cruiser, at least one destroyer and several auxiliary ships.

With unerring judgment the Japanese paid attention during the day and in the night to the heavily armored vessels, destroying the first-class battleships Borodino and Alexander III, the first-class armored cruisers Admiral Nakhimoff and Dimitri Donskoi, the coast-defence ironclad Admiral Usakoff and the great fighting cruiser Svietlana. With these out of the way, the battle on Sunday morning was a pursuit, still continuing, and it is confidently expected that the final report will prove that Rojestvensky has not escaped with a single ship of the line.

On Saturday morning Captain Nagai, commander of torpedo boat flotilla No. 4, just at sunrise signaled 17 miles south of Oki Island that the Russian fleet was approaching through channel No. 2, and 20 minutes later the commander of the torpedo-boat destroyer flotilla No. 3 signaled Admiral Kamimura, of the second fleet, the direction of the Russian battleships.

The Japanese fleet in five divisions, one for the battleships, two for the armored cruisers and two for the unarmored ships, with 11 flotillas of torpedo boats and destroyers, immediately upon receipt of the report were signaled to start for attack. At 9 o'clock in the morning the Japanese fleet was within nine miles of the Russian squadron and about 27 miles east of the mainland. The Russians were bound northwest, in the hope of going between Tsu Island and the Korean coast.

The westerly division of the enemy included the three coast ironclads, with the armored and unprotected cruisers. Admiral Togo's instructions were to attack.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday the first report came from the battle announcing that the Russians were being driven southwest and that the Japanese armored cruisers on one side, toward the mainland, and the battleships to the west were centering their fire on Rojestvensky's armored ships.

The second report at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening, announced the sinking of the Dimitri Donskoi and two Russian torpedo-boat destroyers, and at 9 o'clock on Saturday night came the wireless dispatch to Nagasaki, relayed to Tokio, that the entire Russian battle fleet was being attacked by the Japanese destroyers and torpedo boats under command of Vice-Admiral Tsunoda.

The midnight telegram to Tokio, for which the whole city kept awake, reported that more than one-half the Russian fleet had been damaged in the day attack; that two battleships had been cut out of the line, and that the attack by the torpedo boat flotillas was in successful progress.

Then followed a supplementary dispatch from Togo, specifying two battleships, a coast defense vessel, three destroyers and three cruisers as among those sunk. The elation in Tokio was at its height when Rear-Admiral Kamimura announced that two battleships and two coast defense vessels had been driven into one of the bays of the mainland of the Island of Kishiu and had struck their colors. These were the fragmentary dispatches of Saturday and Sunday outlining the tremendous victory.

The main points gathered last night indicated that all the fleet captains of the Japanese ironclads centered their fire at a distance of about 4½ miles on the Russian battleships and three armored cruisers and that the unprotected cruisers of Japan took care of the smaller vessels. Every ship in the Russian fleet was set on fire at various times before dark on Saturday, one cruiser was sunk, the steering gear of one battleship destroyed and one auxiliary ship, name unknown, blown up.

This was the situation as dark came on. Rojestvensky was attempting to escape southwest. It was a foregone conclusion at 4 o'clock in the afternoon that he would attempt to do this, and nearly all the torpedo boat flotillas and destroyers were miles below him, ready to carry out the instructions of Vice Admiral Tsunoda. How far the torpedo boat flotillas were successful cannot be now told.

The Russians figure that Admiral Togo, with his main squadron, must have lain somewhere off the coast of Korea while Admirals Kamimura and Uriu held their squadrons farther north to head off the Russian vessels which might get through Togo's lines, or be prepared to bar the entrance to the Straits of Tsugaru in case the Russians should be reported moving up the east coast of Japan. When Togo's scouts reported that Admiral Rojestvensky was heading for the eastern channel of the Straits of Korea the Japanese admiral steamed around the northern part of the Tsu Island and came upon the Russians steaming in double column, with the cruisers to port.

Togo enjoyed the great advantage of tactical position when he opened fire, having the lightest of the Russian ships between him and Rojestvensky's heavier vessels, thus smothering the fire of the latter. Besides, Togo was able to use all his broadsides, whereas the sternmost ships of the Russian columns, coming on in line-ahead formation, could probably only with difficulty use any guns at all. Nevertheless, although suffering the complete loss of four ships in the desperate encounter which followed and being subjected to a series of torpedo attacks Saturday night, Rojestvensky was able to steam 200 miles during the night. When Sunday morning came the Russian fleet was in two divisions. The faster and stronger division under Rojestvensky was met by Kamimura and Uriu, while the slower division under Nebogatoff renewed the fight with Togo.

With some of these scattered Russians, it was a case of save himself who can. In the running fight the Japanese enjoyed the advantage of superior speed, enabling them to concentrate their fire and bring very crippled Russian ships to bay. Admiral Nebogatoff's battered remnant surrendered off Liancourt Rocks, while Rojestvensky, with the best remaining battleships fought on for the honor of the Russian navy.

The Russian Admiralty learned with a sense of relief that the flagship Kniaz Souvaroff sank under the feet of the Russian commander-in-chief. The surrender of Nebogatoff's two battleships, even though the circumstances are not yet known, is regarded as a disgrace.

How to Ward Off Old Age

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1905.

THE REFUSAL of Governor Douglas, of Massachusetts, to run again for the office is a misfortune of broader scope than the territory of that State. He carried Massachusetts on a simple tariff reform platform at the same election when Roosevelt swept the country. That result was a pointer not only for his own party, but for all parties. The Philadelphia Record says: "It is such men as Gov. Douglas fresh from the shops and the fields, untainted with corporate greed or political defilements, who are needed to bring back our State and federal governments within the lines of ordered economy and simplicity established at the beginning of the experiment of self-government."

THE TALKED OF international incident caused by the reported sinking of an American merchant steamer off Formosa by Admiral Rojestvensky's Russian fleet on or about May 20 is closed, so far as the United States government is concerned. Mr. Griscom, the American minister at Tokio, who sent to the State Department the first report of the alleged affair, has telegraphed that the vessel was of British register. This will be bad news to the American jingoes who are anxious to have the United States and Russia at loggerheads. Indeed such people are never happy unless they are stirring up strife.

THE SMALLNESS of some people is phenomenal. At Port Carbon, Pa., yesterday, the display by a lady of a little Confederate flag from her window was so grave an offense that the G. A. R. parade refused to march till the flag was removed and in the meantime a committee which demanded its removal called out: "Take down that rebel flag or we will blow it to h—l with bullets!" But the public is informed about forty times a year that the northern people have no ill feeling toward their southern brethren?

THE PRESIDENT in his speech at the unveiling of the Solcum statue in New York yesterday took occasion to urge a further increase of the navy. He said:

If our navy is good enough, we have a long career of peace and prosperity before us, and the only likelihood of troubles ever coming to us as a nation will arise if we let our navy become too small or inefficient.

This means that at the next session of Congress a bill will be introduced for the expenditure of several hundred million dollars more for the use of the navy.

RECENT EVENTS in the far eastern waters should suggest to those in authority who are urging an increase in the navy the propriety of going slow in the matter of the building of battleships and big cruisers. Such vessels cost many millions of dollars each, but it will be seen that they can be easily blown to smithereens by a little and inexpensive torpedo boat. The Russian-Japanse war should teach naval men many lessons.

SECRETARY TAFT announces that "we" will have to keep the Philippines for at least another generation in colonial subjection in order to familiarize their inhabitants with the principles of independence. The Philadelphia Record asks: "What is the need of longer use of that kind of subterfuge? Why not say at once: 'We will keep the Philippines?'"

From Washington.

Washington, D. C., May 31.

President Roosevelt has taken no steps looking to the inauguration of peace negotiations. While he and all other officials of the administration believe that peace is nearer now than it has ever been since the outbreak of the war between Russia and Japan, he realizes that it will require some time for the full effect of Togo's victory to be appreciated at the Russian capital. Therefore he does not regard the present moment opportune to make even the slightest suggestion with regard to mediation. It can be stated authoritatively that he will make no open overtures until he has been assured that they will be acceptable to both Russia and Japan. It can further be stated that Secretary Taft's visit on the President last night had no reference to peace negotiations either now or in the immediate future and, in fact, that the subject was not mentioned except in the most general way.

The Navy Department was advised this morning by Lieut. Marble, United States naval attache at Tokio, that Admiral Rojestvensky and the two captured Russian rear admirals were severely wounded. Considerable doubt exists in the minds of officials of the Navy Department as to whether Admiral Rojestvensky has or has not been captured by the Japanese. Lieut. Marble, the United States naval attache at Tokio, Japan, sent a dispatch to the Navy Department today in which he says: "The Russian commander-in-chief and the two Russian rear admirals who are captured have been severely wounded." The ambiguity in this dispatch relative to the whereabouts of the person of Admiral Rojestvensky shows, according to the Navy Department officials, that Tokio is still uncertain whether he has fallen into the hands of Admiral Togo. The fact that he was wounded seems to be all that is known with certainty. United States Minister Griscom telegraphs to the State Department from Tokio at 11:45 this morning as follows: "Rojestvensky's skull fractured, requiring operation. Serious, but not dangerous. Total Japanese losses to date, three torpedo boats sunk, three officers killed and about 200 men killed and disabled."

The following official dispatch was received this morning at the Japanese Legation from Tokio: "It is officially announced that in the last naval battle the damages sustained by our fleet were very slight and none of our battleships, cruisers, destroyers or other ships was lost, except three torpedoboats. Under imperial command, Admiral Togo was authorized to permit Admiral Nebogatoff to submit to the Czar his report of the battle and a list of the Russians killed, wounded and prisoners. The admiral was also authorized to release, on parole, the surrendered officers of Nicholai I, Orel, Apraxin and Senyavin. Admiral Rojestvensky was taken to Sasebo Naval Hospital. No other admiral was captured from the Biedovy, the last report in this respect being due to a clerical error."

The State Department has received the following dispatch, under date of May 30, from Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg: "Russian ship Almaz only Russian arrived (at Vladivostok). Captain reports saw Kniz Suvaroff (flagship) sink. Rojestvensky, wounded safely lowered aboard torpedo boat Bouiny, but Bouiny not yet heard from."

Minister Criscom at Tokio telegraphs as follows to the State Department this afternoon: "Rojestvensky seriously wounded; is in the hospital at Sasebo. Two Russian hospital ships captured, suspected of taking part strategically; brought to Sasebo. Russian officers will be released on parole."

From the meagre information that has been received regarding the conditions under which the great naval battle in the Korean straits was fought between Togo and Rojestvensky, naval officers here have about reached the conclusion that the Russian fleet was stampeded. Its battle formation was broken up and the Japanese then proceeded to pick off the Russians one by one or in small groups. This theory is borne out by the report from Admiral Togo that his "combined squadron" attacked five Russian ships near the Liancourt rocks. Against such odds the Russians had no show and the result was that four of them surrendered, including the batttleships Orel and Nicholas I, the fifth one escaping by flight. In the absence of details it is believed here that the stampede was caused by the sudden appearance, under cover of fog, of various flotillas of Japanese torpedo boats, combined with the heavy fire from both sides of the big guns of the Japanese battleships and cruisers. The torpedo boats evidently delivered their attacks at close quarters and the sudden appearance of swarms of these deadly little craft almost under their bows apparently threw the Russians into confusion in the midst of which the various segments of their fleet became separated. The Japanese formation being still intact it was possible for them to concentrate the combined fire of several ships on individual Russians with the destructive effect already made known. This would also probably explain why the Japanese ships escaped with so little injury to themselves. While some of the press dispatches have suggested that the Japanese made use of submarine boats, naval officers here do not believe it.

At this morning's session of the Crawford trial, Postoffice Inspector Simons was recalled to the stand to complete his testimony begun Monday. Postoffice Inspector Sullivan and J. R. Tulles, a typewriter and stenographer in the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General's office corroborated statements made by Simons concerning an interview in the fourth assistant's office with W. G. Crawford relative to the contracts of and organization of the Postal Lock and Device Co. In the typewritten statement as presented by the government, of the interview, the facts as brought out by the reading were that Geo. E. Lorenz was not an officer of the company, that on each of the satchels sold, Lorenz was to receive 40 cents as his profit, and in addition should furnish the straps and pay the traveling expenses of Crawford. On the first contract signed by the postal Lock and Device Co., Lorenz received $2,000 as his share.

President Roosevelt has pardoned S. J. Spotts, a former bank cashier of Petty, Texas, who is serving a five year sentence at Fort Leavenworth for embezzling the funds of the First National Bank of Petty. Spotts pleaded guilty on March 12, 1903. He has made good his peculations and neither bank nor depositors have been permanent sufferers by his crime. President Roosevelt denied Spott's application for a pardon a year ago believing that he had not suffered enough punishment at that time.

Secretary of the Navy Morton this afternoon made the following official statement: "Paul Morton announces that he will retire from the Cabinet July 1, 1905. He will go to New York to live and will become associated with Mr. Thomas F. Ryan. Mr. Morton will at once take charge of the plans for the construction of a proposed comprehensive system of underground rapid transit lines in New York city for operation in connection with the existing surface lines."

Children Gored By Wild Bulls.

A terrible happened Monday at Villamanrique, in the province of Seville. Twenty little girls were playing in the fields. The imitated a religious procession—made little banners of handkerchiefs and turned their toys into images of saints. They were marching through the field, singing some sort of a chant, when eight wild bulls, enraged by the noise and the fluttering banners, escaped from a neighboring drove and attacked them furiously in a hollow of the field. The children could not get away, and a terrible scene followed. The mad animals impaled them on their horns, tossed them, trampled upon them, and gored them while on the ground. Nine of the children were killed and six seriously injured. A little girl of 5 had an amazing escape. Her clothes were torn to shreds by the horns of the bulls, yet she was not injured.

Wrestling Match.

Elmira N. Y, May 31.—Ed. Atherton, champion middle weight catch-as-catch-can, wrestled "Americus" of Baltimore, last night. "Americus" got the first fall in nineteen minutes. After three minutes of the second bout, "Americus" was caught in a flying wedge and threw his head back to form a bridge, but missed, striking on his head. Atherton pinned him and the referee called time. "Americus" lay unconscious. Doctors say that the muscles and nerves of "Americus'" neck are seriously injured from Atherton jumping on his opponent when his head struck the mat. "Americus" is conscious today, and will recover.

News of the Day.

The Speaker of the British House of Commons, the Right Hon. William Court Gully, has resigned. He has been ill for sometime.

Olga Nethersole is to return to the United States in the autumn of this year. She had arranged to make her reappearance under the management of Maurice Grau.

The French Foreign Office denies a rumor that Japan has demanded $100,000,000 damages for French breaches of neutrality in connection with Rojestvensky's voyage.

The handsome cottage near Towson, Md., owned by Mr. Robert M. Taylor, the well-known gentleman jockey, and occupied by Dr. Stuart Cassard, was destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock last night.

ROJESTVENSKY A PRISONER.

There is no longer any doubt about the fate of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky. He and Rear Admirals Voelkersahm and Nebogatoff are prisoners, and, according to Admiral Togo's latest official reports, the Russians lost 22 ships, with an aggregate tonnage of 153,411.

The Japanese destroyer Sazanami Saturday evening captured the Russian destroyer Biedovy, wherein were found Admirals Rojestvensky and another admiral, later identified as Voelkersahm, both severely wounded. With them were the staff officers of Rojestvensky's sunken flagship. All were taken prisoners.

The vessels captured by the Japanese include two battleships and two coast-defense armored ships. The ships sunk include six battleships, five cruisers, one coast-defense ship, two special service ships and a number of torpedo-boat destroyers.

Admiral Togo further reports that as far as ascertained no Japanese ships were seriously damaged, and all are still engaged in operations. The casualties in the first Japanese division were over 400. Admiral Misu was slightly wounded. Russian casualties are roughly estimated at 8,000.

The only two vessels of Rojestvensky's fleet to reach Vladivostok are the cruiser Almaz and the torpedo-boat destroyer Grozny.

The two captured battleships and two coast-defense armor-clad ships have been brought to Sasebo. The battleships are slightly damaged

Foreign naval officers, observers of the battle, sharply criticise Rojestvensky's alignment of his ships, in which he exposed the weaker vessels. They also intimate that Admiral Nebogatoff showed cowardice in surrendering his ships practically without a fight, and in St. Petersburg Nebogatoff's conduct is considered a disgrace.

Admiral Durnovo, a member of the council of the Russian empire and superintendent of posts and telegraphs under the Minister of the Interior, has received a dispatch from his son, who is in command of the Buiny, describing fully how his commander-in-chief, Admiral Rojestvensky, was saved. The admiral was washed off the deck of the Kniaz Souvaroff just before the flagship foundered, and was picked up by the torpedo-boat destroyer Buiny.

The belief that Japan has proved a leader among the nations of the earth in the expert use of the submarine as a destroyer of the battleship is growing with the arrival of late reports of the destruction of the ill-fated Baltic fleet, and students of the subject are willing to concede that no such destruction among modern battleships and cruisers as that wrought by Japan could have been effected except by the employment of torpedos from the bottom, aimed at the unprotected portions of steel-clad ships. The only question is where the Japanese could have secured so quickly a fleet of submarine boats, provided she was unable to build them in her own naval yards without the knowledge of other powers.

Vladivostok sent out word yesterday that the cruiser Almaz and the destroyer Grosny had reached that port but no reference was made to Admiral Rojestvensky, whose arrival was reported in St. Petersburg dispatches. The officers of the Almaz reported that two Japanese battleships had been sunk.

Entombed in Tunnel.

A cave-in occurred yesterday in the Gunnison tunnel, one of the largest irrigation projects of the United State government at Montrose, Col., entombing a number of workmen variously estimated at from twenty to twenty-five. It is not likely that any of the men are dead, unless they were caught and crushed to death by the falling earth, for the air pump pipes running into the tunnel have been working almost without interruption since the accident happened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A shaft is being sunk directly over the spot where the men are buried, and machinery is in place to remove the dirt and rock as fast as it can be dug or blown out. The shaft must penetrate sixty-five feet before the tunnel can be reached, and it is not thought that the distance can be covered before sometime today. The cave-in occurred beneath the bed of Cedar Creek, and was primarily due to the softened earth, caused by seepage from the creek.

This morning, the body of an unknown workman was found in the tunnel, but before it could be dug out, another cave-in started, burying it again. Two other men who were caught in the timbers can be heard calling for help.

Stars and Bars Came Down.

Because Mrs. T. F. Heebner, wife of a prominent Philadelphia and Reading Railroad official, being of Southern birth, yesterday displayed from her third-story window, at Port Carbon, Pa., a Confederate flag above the Stars and Stripes, floating from a second-story window, the Grand Army of the Republic veterans halted their memorial parade, while a committee requested its removal, but received a flat refusal.

Then the chief burgess, Samuel W. Wagner and William Burnham repeated their demand with the remark: "If you don't take it in, we will blow it to h——with bullets."

On this threat someone lowered the flag.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 31.—The stock market opened irregular with considerable strength among specialties. Japanese issues are active and higher. Traders inclined to bull the whole list for a strong close today, if not a general advance tomorrow.

Virginia News.

Daniel Lyon, a widely known tobacco merchant, died in Richmond yesterday, aged 68 years.

Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, dean of the law faculty of George Washington University, of Washington, is very desirous of seeing ex-Governor Charles T. O'Ferral made president of the Jamestown Exposition Company.

Captain John Lamb, congressman from the Richmond district, is an advocate of the re-election of Senator Martin to the Senate. Representative Flood, of the Tenth district, says he is absolutely confident of the re-election of Senator Martin.

Mrs. Annie Hubard Manning, widow of Dr. J. Alonzo Manning, died in Winchester Monday night. She was a daughter of the late James R. Hubard and a sister of Rev. Dr. J. R. Hubard, of the Protesant Episcopal Church, at Norfolk.

It is announced in Norfolk that the Standard Oil Company has purchased 100,000 acres of land in eastern North Carolina containing several million feet of gum timber from which oil barrels will be manufactured at a cooperage plant to be established on the line of the projected Virginia and Carolina Coast railroad, which is to run into Norfolk.

The Berwind-White Coal Company, the big operators who recently contracted with the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company to bring to Lambert's Point 2,000,000 tons of coal annually, have secured a charter in New Jersey for the mining company. This company is the New River and Pocahontas Consolidated Coal Company, and has an authorized capital os $10,000,000.

Corporation Commission Troubles.

John B. Lightfoot, jr., and William Crump Tucker were arrested in Richmond yesterday and bailed in $500 to appear before the Police Court. The arrest grew out of the publication between Judge Crump, president of the Corporation Commission, and Major A. S. Lanier, whose resignation as assistant clerk to that organization has been asked for and not tendered.

Messrs. Lightfoot and Tucker are well-known young lawyers, and both of them nephews of Judge Crump. It came to the ears of the police that these young gentlemen contemplated a breach of the peace, and sought them out at their respective offices and placed them under arrest. They accompanied the officers to the station, and had no trouble in furnishing the bail.

Togo's report in brief gave the result of the battles as follows:

"Kniaz Suvaroff, Alexander III, Borodino, Dmitri Donski, Admiral Nakhimoff, Vladmir Monamach, Jemchug, Admiral Ussakoff, one converted cruiser and two destroyers sunk. Nicholai I, Orel, Admiral Apraxine, Admiral Senavine, and destroyer Biedovy captured. Osilabia, and Navarin reported by prisoners to have sunk."

Following is Admiral Yamamoto's message in reply to these reports:

"The enemy's second and third squadrons, successfully overcoming the difficulties attending their voyage eastward, showed themselves no mean power, but your squadron intercepting them in advance of their destination, put them to confusion and destroyed and captured nearly all their vessels. Your victory does not end here. You captured the enemy's commander-in-chief. It is most gratifying for our national cause that you achieved such a victory. We send congratulations and take occasion to praise the virtue of the emperor; to thank you and those under you for the onerous service extending over so many months, and to express sympathy for the killed and wounded."

Paris, May 31.—A report has been received here from St. Petersburg that Admiral Kamimura has engaged the remnant of the Russian fleet which escaped from the destruction of the previous battle. The fighting is still in progress, according to the report.

London, May 31.—The correspondent of the Evening Standard at Sanghai wires that the cruiser squadron of the Japanese fleet under the command of Admiral Kamimura is leaving Formosa for the mouth of the Yangtse river. The Russian cruiser Smolensk is reported to be lying in the Yangtse and it is supposed that the purpose of the Japanese cruisers in sailing for that point is to capture or sink the Russian vessel.

Keeping News From People.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—While the people now are generally aware of the fact that Rojestvensky has been defeated by the Japanese, hardly more than 200 persons know the full extent of the loss, pains having been taken not to allow the news of the overwhelming disaster to creep out. The newspapers, however, except the reactionary press, in the light of what is known, say that Russia has had enough of the war and urge peace. The papers take the ground that the bureaucracy and not the nation has suffered defeat. In governmental circles, the most amazing indifference is shown in regard to the disaster. Last night, the admiralty was entirely deserted, all the officers having either gone to their palaces or being spectators at the theatres. News of the arrival of the torpedo boat destroyer Grozny at Vladivostok reached here this morning.

Glasgow, May 31.—The correspondent of the Herald, at St. Petersburg, wires his paper that the Czar is obstinately set against the proposition of suing for peace to bring the present war to a termination.

Insane on Wedding Tour.

The wedding tour of Mr. and Mrs. De Witt Ottman, of Albany, was brought to an abrupt and painful conclusion in New York yesterday morning. Married in Albany the preceding day, they had come down the river on one of the night boats. Soon after their arrival in New York Mr. Ottman showed signs of insanity, and in the course of an hour became violent. Rev. Fred Ottman, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Stamferd, Conn., brother of the bridegroom, who performed the marriage ceremony in Albany, came down on the same boat with the couple. He was the first to notice the symptoms of insanity, observing that his brother was talking strangely. It was not long before Mr. Ottman was raving. The clergyman secured a carriage and with difficulty took his brother to the Roosevelt Hospital. His ravings and struggles became constantly more violent. The bride was completely unstrung at the first manifestations of her husband's derangement. She also had to have medical attendance. Later in the afternoon she rallied sufficiently to return to Albany. Dr. Gregory who has charge of the insane ward refused to discuss the case last night beyond saying that Mr. Ottman was in a serious condition.

Confederate Veterans.

Following is a list of delegates appointed by Dr. W. E. Harwood, grand commander of the Grand Camp, Confederate Department of Virginia, Camp No. 521, U. C. V., to the fifteenth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, to be held in Louisville, Ky., June 14th, 15th and 16th; each delegate to appoint his alternate:

Judge John H. Fulton, Wytheville.
Judge John C. Ewell, Bertrand.
Colonel James M. Neal, Danville.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes. "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Today's Telegraphic News

REVOLT IN MANCHURIA.

London, May 31.—A St. Petersburg dispatch states that General Linievitch wired the Czar today that the news of Rojestvensky's defeat has spread throughout the army in Manchuria, and that the troops are in open revolt. The dispatch has caused the greatest excitement and comes from an authentic and reliable source. It is said in the same sources that General Linievitch has advised the Czar that it will be impossible to continue the war under the circumstances. Russian patriotism is rising in a wave of indignation at the present regime of the Grand Duke and the Bureaucracy, to whom they attribute the disaster that Rojestvensky has met and from all sides, comes the cry of the populace for an immediate change in administration. The Czar is no longer considered. Loyalty to him has fallen. He is not to blame, personally, the people feel. For Russia's sake, in the cry of editors, lawyers, nobles, farmers, and peasants, the reign of the royal family in its present course must cease. Even M. Soverign, editor of the conservative Novoe Vremya demands that the people take the helm. Even the Slobo, the organ of the Grand Duke Alixieff, explains that Russia has had enough of calamities, and demands a change that will give peace.

Rumors are thickly current that the Czar intends to resign. The convocation of a representative assembly is confidently expected this afternoon. Great generals, admirals, all the ministers and the grand dukes, have been in conference with the emperor tonight at the Tasarskoe Selo palace. Officials in their expressions of sorrow and admissions that Russia has lost her sea power for half a century to come. The revolt in the army may be the final event in the series of disasters that have overtaken Russia since February 8, 1904, when the war opened.

Fighting Still in Progress.

Tokio, May 31.—A message congratulating Admiral Togo and the men under his command, was sent to the Japanese naval commander today by Admiral Yamamoto, Minister of the Navy, in reply to the reports made yesterday by Togo in which he announced the capture of a part of the Russian main force, near Liancourt Rocks, on May 28, the sinking of the coast defence vessel Admiral Ussakoff, and the cruiser Dmitri Donski, and the capture of the destroyer Biedovy with Admiral Rojestvensky and Admiral Volkersham aboard and the pursuit of the remaining Russian vessels.

The Valhalla Sighted.

Scilly Island Signal Station, May 31. At 11:40 a. m., the English yacht Valhalla, one of the contestants in the race for the Kaiser's cup, was sighted twenty miles to the southwest of the station. A light southwesterly breeze is blowing and the sea is smooth.

Southampton, May 31.—The Atlantic, the winner of the Kaiser's cup race, arrived here this morning. Hundreds of letters and telegrams were waiting for Captain Charles Barr congratulating him on his victory in taking the Atlantic across the finish line in the lead. The members of the Atlantic's crew are thoroughly exhausted. Capt. Barr, himself, is almost worn out as he has not slept for 48 hours. Wilson Marshall, owner of the Atlantic, gives the credit for the victory of his boat entirely to Captain Barr. He is enthusiastic over Barr's seamanship. Mr. Marshall expects to go to Kiel later. For the present he has no intention of racing the Atlantic in English waters.

Scilly, May 31.—The American schooner yacht Endymion was sighted south of here at 3:55 p. m. She will be a close fourth in the race. The wind holds from the southwest, but is freshening.

The American schooner yacht Hildegarde was the fifth boat to put in an appearance. She was sighted at 5:35 this afternoon.

The British yacht Sunbeam was sighted at 6:10 p. m., fifteen miles west.

Lizard, May 31.—The British yacht Valhalla, the third of the boats contesting in the ocean yacht race, was sighted from here at 4.50 this afternoon. She was then eighteen miles away.

Large Reward.

New York, May 31.—A reward of $10,000 offered today for the return of an old-fashioned mahogany treasure box, has caused a good deal of interest and speculation. The advertisement states that the box contained jewelry, stocks and letters. The jewelry and stocks are said to be worth a small fortune, but according to the private detectives at work on the case, the people who lost the box are most anxious to recover the letters. These documents, it is intimated, compromise New York families of social prominence. The Sheldon detective agency of No. 31 west 42nd street have the case in charge. A member of the bureau says a near relative, the black sheep of the family, is suspected, and it is thought the valuables will be speedily recovered, now that the affair has been given publicity. The theft occured about April 11. "The thief need have no fear of being prosecuted," the detective said. "We have the money to give for the box, and its contents, and will pay it over. The letters are what we want more than anything else."

Blames Husband for Her Crime.

Norfolk, Va., May 31.—Beatrice Laughorne Richardson, daughter of R. J. Reynolds, the millionaire North Carolina tobacco manufacturer, who was sentenced, in Norfolk, to serve one year in the penitentiary for the theft of $200 from a naval officer, has made a confession to the police in which she declares that her husband, Joseph Richardson, secured $170 of the naval officer's money. The confession was made with the hope of having her sentence changed to jail imprisonment. Mrs. Richardson is now suing her wealthy father for $50,000, the amount which she claims is due her from her mother's estate. Mr. Reynolds married his stenographer one month ago and is now in Europe.

International Arbitration Conference.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., May 31.—The eleventh annual meeting of the Lake Mohonk conference of international arbitration opened here this morning, with Judge Gray, of Delaware, presiding. Nearly three hundred members are present. Official delegates from over thirty business organizations of the country are in attendance. The proceedings opened today with an address of welcome by Albert K. Smiley, the founder of the conference and their host from year to year. Dr. Benjamin F. Trueblood then gave a review of the progress of international arbitration for the past years.

Report Denied.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—The report telegraphed to the London Express that the cruiser Gromoboi, of the Vladivostok squadron, had been blown up by a mine and that the ship and 800 of her crew were lost, is denied by the Admiralty. A wireless message was received from the Gromoboi at Vladivostok. It is admitted that the Gromoboi sailed from Vladivostok Saturday in an endeavor to join Rojestvensky's fleet. Admiral Skrydloff was not aboard as reported. He is in St. Petersburg.

The Derby.

London, May 31.—The Derby was run at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Epsom Downs and the greatest interest was manifested in the event. Lord Roseberry's horse Cicero, which has never been beaten and which was ridden today by Maher, won. For almost the first time in the history of the Derby all the prophets have united in picking the same horse to win, and Cicero was this favorite. There were nine starters in all. M. Blanc's horse Jardy, ridden by Stern, took second place, and Signorino, with K. Cannon up, was third.

Gift of Spanish King.

Madrid, May 31.—The Marquis Mina, who will represent King Alfonso at the coming wedding of the Crown Prince, Frederick William, of Germany, and the Grand Duchess Cecillie, left today for Berlin. The Marquis carried with him a handsome Toledo sword with a gold hilt, set with diamonds valued at $50,000, as the gift of the Spanish King to the Crown Prince.

Son Lost Mother.

"Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my mother," writes E. B. Reid, of Harmony, Me. "For the past five years, however, on the slightest sign of a Cough or Cold, I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which has saved me from serious lung trouble." His mother's death was a sad loss for Mr. Reid, but he learned that lung trouble must not be neglected and how to cure it. Quickest relief and cure for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Trial bottle free.

There Is a Difference.

The difference between Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar and all other Cough Syrup is that it moves the bowels, thus expelling a cold from the system. This relaxes the nerve-tissues and by its healing effect on the throat and lungs the cough is relieved—cured entirely. Kennedy's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar and contains no opiates. Good alike for young or old. Tastes good. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner Queen and Patrick streets.

The Equitable Society.

New York, May 31.—One of the most important meetings of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in years is being help today at No. 120 Broadway. The purpose of the meeting, which went into session shortly after 11 o'clock, is to consider the report of the committee, headed by Henry C. Frick, which was appointed to investigate the affairs of the society. It is learned that the report censures that officials of the society for mismanagement in the conduct of the business. This strikes at President James W. Alexander the hardest, because under the by-laws, first vice President James H. Hyde does not have much to do with the management of the affairs of the Society. A recess was taken for luncheon. The directors will go into session again at 3 o'clock this afternoon. None of the directors would say what had taken place during the morning session.

King Alfonso in Paris.

Paris, May 31.—King Alfonso of Spain who is here for a visit, began his sight seeing bright and early this morning. The young king was accompanied in his first tour about the city by President Loubet. The king was enthusiastic over what he saw, and many times expressed himself joyously. Wherever the king and his famous escort went, they were recognized, and the people cheered them heartily. An official reception for the king at the City Hall is on the program for his entertainment today and the party will take luncheon at the Spanish Embassy. The police are on the track of an Austrian named Verselius, who is alleged to have planned the assassination of the Spanish king. Alfonso is closely guarded from attack. As he was being driven down the avenue Bois de Boulogne, yesterday a man in the road shouted insultingly at the king. He was speedily seized and hurried to prison.

Will Grant Reprieve.

Montpelier, Vt., May 31.—Chief Justice Rowell of the Vermont Supreme Court this morning denied the petition of the attorneys of Mrs. Mary Rogers for a writ of error on the ground that no federal question had been raised. At the suggestion of the court and Attorney General Fitts, Governor Bell decided to grant a reprieve, but he has not as yet stated the date. A reprieve is granted to allow Mrs. Rogers' attorneys to file a petition for a writ of error with a Justice of the United States Supreme Court. The justice with whom the petition will be filed will probably be Rufus W. Peckham.

Excitement on Steamers.

Gallipolis, O., May 31.—A terrific wind storm last night caused a panic in the steamer Greenland, which collided with Swallow Markle's floating theatre in the Kanawha river. Both boats were slightly damaged. Mrs. Mary B. Green, captain of the Greenland, stood heroically by her post with her two small sons, and gave orders that safely landed the Greenland and allayed the fears of the panic stricken passengers. Many attempted to jump over board from the show boat.

Audience with the Pope.

Rome, May 31.—Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, Monsignor Jansen, bishop of Belleville, Ills., and Bishop Scannel, of Omaha, were received in private audience by the Pope today.

Provision Transport Captured.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—General Linievitch reports that his cavalry on May 24th, captured a Japanese provision transport near Gangowati.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

There are rumors that the strike in Chicago will soon end.

Nineteen business houses and two dwellings were destroyed by fire today, at Warroad, Minn., on the Canadian border. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

Fatally Burned.

With her clothing ablaze, the result of an explosion of a gasoline stove, Mrs. Mollie Redlich, aged 28 years, of 806 North Gay street, Baltimore, appeared on the street yesterday morning. She ran screaming into the drug store of Mr. J. Edwin Hengst where medical attention was rendered her until the arrival of the Northeastern district ambulance. Mrs. Redlich was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she died shortly before noon yesterday. Mrs. Redlich was alone in the house, her husband having gone to work about a half hour before. She is thought to have been filling a gasoline stove while it was burning, which caused it to explode. When Mrs. Redlich ran down the street many people were on their way to their places of employment, and the incident created a great deal of excitement.

Father of 24 Kills Son's Wife.

Father of 24 children, and with his wife dead but two weeks, Lewis Pollard, sr., at Cleveland, Ohio, Saturday night killed the wife of his only son because she refused to elope with him. Pollard is an Englishman by birth, 59 years old, and came to Cleveland from Toronto a few months ago. Under the cross-examination of the police he confessed to a life of degeneracy which surpasses anything noted in medical records. He is a carpenter and an exceedingly powerful man. He displayed no remorse over his deed, but was inclined to boast of it. He was unable to say where most of his children were, as they all left home as soon as possible.

The Old Dominion Boat Club's Regatta.

Everything seemed to conspire on Tuesday afternoon to aid in making the annual regatta of the Old Dominion Boat Club a pronounced success. The forenoon had been overcast and threatening, but by 4 o'clock the sky had cleared and the blue waters of the old Potomac danced in the sunlight. No "dark Plutonian shadows gathered on the evening blast," but a gentle breeze came over the water just sufficient to make an easy swell without interfering with the rowing, while it fluttered the drapery of the entrancing array of youth and beauty gathered on the broad balcony of the boathouse. Never on any occasion did Alexandria have more cause to be proud or to boast of its beauty. The ranks of the well-known belles were augmented by debutantes of last season, and by many visitors from neighboring cities. The races, beginning with the double outriggers and ending with the canoes, were highly interesting and spirited, showing that the material for the making of fine oarsmen in the club is abundant and increasing all the time. Mr. Charles Barrett demonstrated by his bold and skillful handling of the "single sculls," that that ticklish craft will soon be a new feature in the regattas of the Old Dominion Boat Club

The first event was a race between outriggers which was rowed in three heats. In the first heat Knox and Tallman came in first, Herbert and Brookes second, and Green and Barrett third. In the second heat, Stoutenburgh and Moss were first to cross the line, Cochran and Hunter and Catts and Graham tied for second place and McBurney and Stansbury were third. In the final run the crews stood: Knox and Tallman, Stoutenburgh and Moss, Cochran and Hunter, and Catts and Graham. There were two entries for the four-oared shell race. The winning crew was composed of Barrett, Knox, Moss and Green, and the other of Herbert, Fawcett, Bryant and Stoutenburgh. During the race Stoutenburgh lost his oar, which handicapped the losing crew. The final event was a double-oared canoe race, the crews being Stoutenburgh and Tallman and Green and Barrett. The race was won by the first named crew.

Capt. Albert Bryan and Judge J. K. M. Norton were the starters, and Messrs. Gardner L. Booth and James S. Douglas, jr., were the judges.

After the races were over an abundance of refreshments were served in the balcony and every one going away voted the regatta a delightful event.

Decoration Day.

The average interest in Decoration Day was manifested in this city yesterday, banks and government offices and some of the stores were closed, the pupils of the public school were given a half-holiday, and there was but one delivery and one collection of the mails. Many strangers were in the city during the day, and numbers of Alexandrians went on excursions or made visits to Washington and others places. The trains running to and from Mount Vernon were crowded throughout the day. A large crowd gathered in the National Cemetery in the afternoon to witness the services held there. The orator of the day was Rev. J. P. Stump, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, who delivered an interesting and impressive address. Mr. Willard P. Graves read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Several vocal selections were rendered by a mixed choir, and after taps had been sounded by a bugler a salute was fired by a detail from the Alexandria Light Infantry. Later in the day many persons gathered at the river front to witness the regatta of the Old Dominion Boat Club.

Police Notes.

Affairs in police circles are quiet and the cases brought before the Police Court are of a trivial nature. The officers report that a number of complaints were made yesterday which were the outcome of unsatisfactory marital relations. Several white women complained of family jars in which charges were urged against their husbands, none, however, were of a nature that warranted public interference save in an advisory manner. In other cases husbands were complainants. A young colored woman appeared at the station and asked for the services of an officer to see that she was allowed to visit Arlington without being annoyed by her husband. According to her story, she was bent upon visiting that place, and was convinced that if she carried out her purpose her husband would insist on accompanying her. The complainant, therefore, wanted an officer to keep her husband at a distance until she made the round trip. The woman was told that under present laws policemen could not be used as body guards on such occasions.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late Lawrence Washington took place from the residence, 519 south Alfred street, this afternoon. A large number of friends and acquaintances of the deceased attended. Company G, Seventieth Virginia regiment, also attended the funeral and paid military honors to the deceased, who served during the Spanish war in that command. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Cutler.

The remains of Mrs. Kate Redmond, widow of Samuel Redmond and mother of Mr. John Redmond, of New Alexandria, were brought from Rockville, Md., where she died last Monday, and interred this afternoon in Bethel cemetery.

Change in the Weather.

The sultry weather which during the past few days has been so oppressive passed away last night, and this morning a cool northeast wind caused a material drop in the mercury. Early last night the heavens became threatening and later there was rain accompanied by some thunder and lightning. Conditions today have been rainy and threatening.

About ten o'clock last night cries of "police!" and "murder!" were heard on north Lee street. It is said that a man had attacked a woman. No arrests were made.

Personal.

Miss Rebeccah Barrett, 408 Duke street, gave a beautiful luncheon Tuesday before the boat races in honor of Mrs. Charles Minnigerode Maigne. The guests were Mrs. Maigne, Mrs. Houck, of New York; Mrs. Carr, of Richmond; Miss Douglas, Miss Jones and Miss Grace Anderson, of this city.

The many friends of Mrs. R. W. Gaillard, who fell on the ice on Wolfe street on the 1st of last February and broke one of her limbs, will be glad to learn that she is now able to walk about her room.

Mrs. D. A. Payne and children have gone to Charlottesville to spend a few days.

Miss Alice L. Brooks, of Washington, is visiting friends in this city. She is the only daughter of the late Capt. W. H. Brooks, a noted inventor, whose death occurred in this city some fourteen years ago. Miss Brooks was a little girl of seven years at the time of her father's death and since then has made her home in Washington, where she is the favorite of her many friends. She has grown to be a tall and extremely graceful girl of the Gibson type, with regular features and beautiful, soft brown hair and gray blue eyes. During the past winter she made many visits to New York, where she has hosts of friends and is also a great favorite. She leaves on the 15th of June for the north, where she will remain until September, visiting New York city and small towns through the northern part of the State.

Mr. Wilmer E. Hellmuth, of this city, now at Colorado Springs, has sent a newspaper from that place to his father, Councilman Hellmuth, which contains a description of a terrific hailstorm which recently prevailed in Colorado Springs. The paper states that the hailstones were four feet deep in the streets.

Deaths.

Mr. Chas. W. Myers died at his home, Springfield Farm, near Bailey's Cross Roads, yesterday evening at 8.25 o'clock, in the 73rd year of his age. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Sallie A. Myers, and five children, R. L and J. F. Myers of this city, J. W., H. C. and Miss Minnie Myers of Bailey's Cross Roads.

Mrs. Annie S. Catts, widow of John Catts, died yesterday morning at the residence of her son, Mr. E. Carter Catts, 725 Seventh street southeast, Washington. The remains will be brought to this city for interment, which will take place in St. Paul's cemetery tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

George McGuire, arrested by Officers Roberts and Young charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

A white woman, arrested by Officer Patterson charged with assaulting a neighbor's child, was dismissed.

Malachi Thomas, arrested by Officers Patterson and Allen charged with escaping from the chain gang, had 60 days added to his term.

Charge Against President.

The secretary of a colored club applied to Chief Webster yesterday for aid in a movement to compel the president of the organization to disgorge the funds of the same name, the complainant alleging that the president had pocketed them and was likely to appropriate the contents of the treasury to his own private use. It appears that the club was organized for the purpose raising money with which to celebrate Christmas. The chief told the complainant to institute a civil suit against the president.

Political.

As heretofore stated Governor Montague will speak at the Opera House in this city Saturday night, the meeting to be held under the auspices of the Montague Club.

A mass meeting will be held in Del Ray, in the county, tomorrow night. Addresses will be delivered by Lieut. Gov. Joseph E. Willard, former Mayor George L. Simpson of this city and Commonwealth's Attorney Crandal Mackey of Alexandria county

Sermon to Knights Templar.

Old Dominion Commandery, No. 11, K. T., will observe Ascension Day by attending services in the Methodist Protestant Church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The commandery will assemble at the asylum at 2 o'clock and march in full uniform to the church. Rev. J. H. S. Ewell will deliver the sermon.

Property Sale.

Mr. J. Frank Carlin, of this city, has purchased from Capt. W. H. Snowden the residence and five acres of the "Andalusia" farm in Fairfax county, below Alexandria. This property is a part of the "River Farm" of the old Mt. Vernon estate. Mr. Carlin will make his summer home on the place.

Baseball.

The Alexandria Athletic Club will play the St. Dominic Church team of Washington tomorrow evening at 5:30 o'clock on the old fair grounds, and a good game is looked for as both teams are very strong.

Errata.

In the election returns in yesterday's Gazette it was stated that Mr. P. F. Gorman received the largest vote of any candidate who had a competitor. This was an error. Mr. John S. Beach polled the largest number of votes, he having received 806.

There was also an error in the figures in the returns from the Second ward. Mr. Frank Mason was elected Constable, he having received 201 votes. His competitor, Mr. W. W. Cline, polled 126.

A Disastrous Calamity.

It is a disastrous calamity when you lose your health, because indigestion and constipation have sapped it away. Prompt relief can be had in Dr. King's New Life Pills. They build up your digestive organs and cure headache, dizziness, colic, constipation, etc. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; 25c.

A Good Suggestion.

Mrs. C. B. Wainwright of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufactures that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drank. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The tug Margaret sailed from New York yesterday with the barge Dendron for this port.

Tomorrow being Ascension Day, services will be held at St. Paul's Church at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The schooners Water Lily Captain McDaniel, loaded with lumber by H. K. Field & Co., have sailed for the lower Potomac.

The easterly winds of last night wafted the effluvium from the fertilizer works on the river front throughout the western part of the city.

About one hundred dollars worth of railroad ties were burned in Alexandria county last night. The fire is said to have been started by some boys.

Mr. Charles T. Smith while repairing the rung of a ladder in use for repairs for the brick work at the residence of Mr. Haddox on Fairfax street was so unfortunate as to lose the forefinger of the right hand by the stroke of the hatchet he was using and which was diverted by coming in contact with an overhanging line. Dr. Arthur Snowden amputated the injured digit.

LIQUOR DRINKERS CURED.

Whiskey and Beer Habit Cured at Home With No Loss of Time.

Orrine is the only guaranteed cure for the drink habit, can be used at home, and destroys entirely the craving for drink, without publicity or loss of time. It quickly removes the craving for intoxicants, steadies the nerves, restores the appetite and gives refreshing sleep.

Ten thousand grateful letters from those who have been cured by Orrine have its infallible success. It is the only guaranteed cure for the liquor habit, and we seek the worse cases in the community in order to prove that Orrine cannot fail. It is prepared in two forms—No. 1, which can be given in tea, coffee or food, without the patient's knowledge, and No. 2. The price of either is $1 per box. Sold by E. S. AUCTION SALES.

BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE OF THE Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, Virginia, rendered on the 7th day of November, 1904, in the chancery cause of Solomon Myers and Isodore Myers, executors of Lewis Myers, deceased, vs. Max Lansburgh and others, the undersigned special commissioners of sale, will on the 5th day of June, 1905,

at 12 o'clock m., at the front door of the Court House of Prince William county, Manassas, Va., sell at public auction all the right, title, interest and estate of the defendant, Max Lansburgh, in and to ALL THAT TRACT OF LAND situated in the county of Prince William, State of Virginia, described as containing 4,264 acres, more or less, and bounded on the east by the Potomac river, on the north by Quantico creek, on the south by Chappawamsick creek and on the west by the telegraph road, together with all rights and appurtences thereto belonging or in any wise appertaining; or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of the said decree in favor of the plaintiffs against the said Max Lansburgh, to-wit, the sum of $2,741.77, with interest on $2,473 66, part thereof from March 6, 1900, and on $268.11, the residue thereof from October 4, 1901, until paid, and the costs of this suit and of sale. The sale is made subject to the rights of W. A. Wimsatt under the agreements made with him by the defendant, Max Lansburgh, bearing date February 9 1904, and March 4, 1904, respectively, and the deed made in pursuance thereof, recorded among the land records of Prince William county, in Liber 52, page 323, and subject also to the contigent dower right of the wife of the said Max Lansburgh in the equity of redemption in said property.

Terms of Sale—One-third of the purchase money in cash on the day of sale and the residue in two equal installments at six and twelve months from the day of sale, the deferred installments to bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the day of sale until paid, and to be evidenced by the notes or bonds of the purchaser or purchasers with approved personal security and the title to be retained until the full payment of the purchase money. The purchaser or purchasers may at their option pay all in cash. All conveyancing to be at the cost of the purchaser or purchasers.

HISTORY OF ALEXANDRIA.

To the frequent questions as to when the History of Alexandria will be published, I wish to reply that it will be published as soon as Mr. Horace Ramey, the publisher, receives sufficient subscriptions, to be paid on delivery of the book, as will pay him for the paper, printing, &c. He is now circulating subscription papers which will be found at many places of business.

Dry Weather Plants.

In damp regions the roots of perennial plants sink deeply and sustain a great growth above ground. In a moderately dry climate plants develop bulky roots and store up supplies which outlast the summer drought, or the plants themselves, as in the case of the cactuses, become fleshy reservoirs of water and food. In the extreme desert neither of these resources is available, and perennial herbs are consequently few. Only stunted shrubs and hardy annuals are able to exist at all, the former growing very slowly, with toughness of texture, the latter flourishing briefly during the spring rains, devoting little energy to making stem or leaves or flowers—mostly inconspicuous and wind fertilized—and hastening (while sometimes still of very small size) to perfect the seeds by which alone the species will survive until the next year's short period of wetness gives a possibility of germination and growth.—Harper's Magazine.

The Professor's Letters.

A professor in a German school in order to teach his pupils letter writing recently conceived the happy idea of having them compose business letters which were inclosed in envelopes and correctly addressed to various merchants in the town. In the evening Herr Professor, having carried the varied epistles home for correction, left them on his table and, as was his custom, hied himself to the cafe. It happened that he had a careful domestic, who, seeing all the letters properly addressed, at once concluded that her master had forgotten to mail them, and out of the goodness of her heart she stamped them and hurried to the post. The stupefaction of the village merchants upon opening their mail the following morning may be imagined, and the amusing part of the incident is that many of the letters, which contained lengthy orders for goods, were taken seriously and the orders promptly filled.—St. Louis Republic.

His Grief.

"John," said Mrs. Twicewed, "you are a brute! You don't express any sorrow that my mother is dying. I don't believe you'd care if all my relatives died!"

"Yes, I would, Maria," answered the brute cheerfully. "I often find myself grieving over the death of your first husband."

A Deduction.

Bugby—Who was that lady who sat beside you at the theater the other evening? Smith—Why, that was my wife. Bugby—Oh, I don' mean the one who sat on your right. I mean the one you talked with.

Naturally.

His Wife—I wish I had lots of money. He—If one could get what he wished for I think I should wish for common sense, not for money. His Wife—Naturally everybody wishes for what they haven't got.

They Generally Are.

"I ate a Welsh rabbit last night."
"How was it?"
"It was a dream."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Some persons are so dry that you might soak them in a joke for a month and it would not go through their skin. —Henry Ward Beecher.

The Lawyer's Fee.

"Yes," said the first burglar disgustedly, "I cracked a lawyer's house the other night, and the lawyer was there with a gun all ready fur me. He advised me ter git out."

"You got off easy," replied the other. "Not much I didn't! He charged me $25 fur the advice."—Catholic Standard and Times.

His Sorrow.

A small boy was invited to a party given by one of his little friends. After he had eaten ice cream and cake three times somebody offered him some candy, but the little chap shook his head and said in a sorrowful tone, "I can chew, but I can't swallow."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Man's Reasonableness

is often as great as women's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick she could hardly leave her bed, and five [5] physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters she was perfectly cured and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, price 50c.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following recently appeared in the Aitcheson (Kan.) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well-known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He says he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner Queen and Patrick streets.
